Edgar must have married thousands of couples. These included my parents in 1963 and my dad's parents in 1931. My mum had never met him before the Big Day! They had written though - I have a letter from Auntie Kathleen (Edgar's wife) in response to my mum dated 11th Oct 1962.

Edgar died 24,322 days (over 66½ years) after his eldest brother Percival had died in Belgium at the Battle of Passchendaele in 1917.

A few days before his older brother Charles was killed in April 1918, they had met for a while near the Front.

When I studied theology 1986-89, Auntie Kathleen sent me Uncle Edgar's Greek Lexicon. I've still got it.
